MLT Literary Festival (23rd - 27th September 2024) Author Visits

We are excited to announce that we will be running our third Maltby Learning Trust Literary Festival in a few weeks' time. The event is to celebrate a love of literature with many great events and experiences planned for all children!

We are thrilled to welcome two incredible authors to our festival on Friday 27 September.

Paul Cookson, renowned poet and performer, will captivate audiences with his dynamic presentations and infectious enthusiasm for poetry.

Liz Million, talented author and illustrator, will share her creative journey and provide insights into the world of illustrating children's books.

All children from Year 1 to Year 6 will meet and take part in an assembly or workshop with both authors and will have the opportunity to purchase their books.

Liz Million's books are priced at £6.00 and Paul Cookson's books will range in price up to £5.00.

If your child would like to purchase any books, they are only available on Friday 27 September and we ask that you send your child to school with cash in an envelope and they will purchase the books directly from the authors.

We are really looking to this event!

Thank you for your continued support.

Yours faithfully

Mrs L Hughes
English Lead
